Mexico's President Obrador;
Another NWO Scumbag
By Raymond Towers

Running on campaign promises of upsetting the status quo and starting Mexico on a great 'Fourth Transformation,' Socialist candidate Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador won the hearts and votes of Mexicans who were fed up with poverty and organized crime. Fifty-three percent of the country voted for him because of his many revolutionary promises, including bringing Mexico up to the level of a first world nation by invigorating the economy, creating a world-class tourist attraction in the southern third of Mexico through the Train Maya project, and lessening the impact of the drug cartels by legalizing all drugs, among other radical changes. After eight months of being in office, how has Mexico's first socialist president done? Did he live up to the hype, or was he just another politician, a liar who said anything to get in power, and once he achieved the presidency, did he loosen the screws on special interest groups, including the United Nations, the crypto-communists and the organized drug cartels that have hindered Mexico for at least the last four presidencies preceding him?

In spring of 2018, several candidates were in the running to become the next president of Mexico. Most of these candidates were ‘more of the same,’ either affiliated with or directly related to corrupt officials from previous presidencies. Mexico has rarely had presidents from the left side of the political aisle, and has rarely had left-leaning political parties at all to promote such candidates. Enter one Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador, with the acronym AMLO, who was then being touted as a breath of fresh air in a stale, stalled Third World nation full of drug cartels and violence.

Many Mexicans fell for the usual leftist rhetoric, similar to what Republican Donald Trump campaigned for in the United States when he said, if elected, how he would ‘clear out the swamp in DC.’ Obrador promised a 4th Transformation of Mexico, with ambitious and large-scale projects, the ascension of Mexico into a world power, and prosperity that Mexicans hadn’t seen in the last four presidential terms. Obrador also made several odd campaign promises, such as expressing an interest to legalize all recreational drugs. I repeat, ALL illegal drugs, in a joint venture with fellow socialist countries such as Bolivia, Cuba and Venezuela. Obrador also said he would forgive ALL drug cartels for wrongdoing, as long as they didn’t attack and sequester innocent civilians. People still saw this man as a ray of hope over a deep, deep quagmire, and in July of 2018, he was elected President of Mexico.

While this article focuses on AMLO, I will also add commentary on related issues to emphasize key points, or just to inform readers who aren’t as knowledgeable about what is going on in Mexico or in other countries, when it comes to Zionist / Marxist-socialist infiltration. You might think the Zionists and Marxists are on opposing sides, but they’re not. That’s how they play the game, by egging two unwitting sides against each other, the same way Rome played ‘divide and conquer’ with its enemies.

To begin with, US President Obama-Soetoro and presidential candidate Hillary Clinton were all for the United Nations Global Pact For Migration.

Good thing President Trump pulled out of the Global Pact when he took over. See the Guardian article up above for more info on that. What I want you to take a close look at is this last italicized paragraph, where the Hillary creature promoted full citizenship, health care through welfare, the right to vote and aiding invaders into bringing their entire families once they crossed into the United States. This is exactly what President Obrador is doing in Mexico right now.

I follow international news closely, paying close attention to whatever is trending politically such as the NWO overthrow of Ukraine where the Clinton Foundation and Creepy Joe Biden helped put the Nazi Poroshenko in the presidency, the soft invasion of Europe by Islam thanks to the opportunistic Zionists, and the shooting of protesters and college students by President Maduro in Venezuela in 2014 and 2017, not to mention what is happening in that battered country this year. That’s how I first became aware of the invasion from Central America a few years ago.

The migrant caravans from the Northern Triangle of Central America are nothing new. We had migrant caravans in 2014 and 2015, when US President Obama-Soetoro was pushing for more rights and privileges for brown people entering the US illegally. The problem was that the controlled socialist media outlets in both the US and Mexico were downplaying the invasions and ignoring the people and organizations behind the scenes financing them, not the least of which was the Catholic Church, which has turned blatantly globalist and non-Catholic ever since the election of Jesuit General Bergoglio, a.k.a. Pope Francis. Also, the political atmosphere was against independent reporters going to where the invading caravans were to obtain firsthand reports.

Catholic Church Was Paid $79 MILLION By Obama Administration In 2014 To Force Migrant Invasion Of Illegal Immigrants - Now you know why Pope Francis pushes so very hard for "all the world" to take in these illegal Muslim migrants. He's getting paid millions to do it. Someone once said that when something doesn't make sense, there's a buck in it. In this case, there were 79 million of them. According to their financial statement for 2014, the latest year for which figures are available, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops received over $79 million in government grants to provide benefits to refugees. - Now The End Begins, November 2015

Article link: <https://www.nowtheendbegins.com/catholic-church-paid-79-million-by-obama-administration-to-force-migrant-invasion/>

That was US taxpayer money, people. And look how much the greedy Pope is giving out of his gold-filled pockets:

“Pope Francis has donated 500,000 dollars to assist migrants in Mexico. The funds, from the Peter’s Pence collections, will be distributed among 27 projects promoted by sixteen Mexican dioceses and religious congregations, which requested assistance in continuing to provide food, lodging, and basic necessities to the migrants,” the report declares. - Breitbart, April 2019

Article link: <https://www.breitbart.com/immigration/2019/04/28/pope-francis-sends-money-to-support-migrant-caravans-trying-to-enter-u-s/>

All of the above: Barack-Soetoro, the Hillary and Pope Francis are on board for the dismantling of democratic nations in favor of United Nations rulership. Especially evil is Francis, as he is using his position as head of the Catholic Church to push Zionist - UN agenda. The Catholic Church, and especially the militant Jesuit branch, would never try to manipulate governments, would they? That’s never happened before in history, has it?

I listened to many of Obrador’s campaign speeches. He was always pro-Mexico and anti-neo-liberalism. He never said he was going to promote any sort of migration into or across Mexico. He was a wolf in sheep’s clothing, a liar like all the rest of them, and his wolf-skin didn’t begin to show until after he took power. Or maybe not...

Obrador was set to take power in December of 2018. However, the first of the recent caravans from Honduras started up in mid-October. The caravans initially began hitting the news streams in early November, when the belligerent mobs attacked Mexican customs officials and tried to storm the border gate between Mexico and Guatemala. President Pena Nieto still had a month to go before he officially left his post. He responded to the aggression by sending 500 more guards to reinforce Mexico’s southern border and to repel further aggression. Enter President-elect Obrador, who stepped in ahead of time and ordered the 500 guards to stand aside and let the invaders through. That was a harbinger of many more bad things to come. (See my article Honduran Hordes: Human Rights Or Human Trafficking for an extensive look at how the invasions initially got rolling. Verum Et Inventa, Issue 3)

The good thing is that many independent reporters went to the Mexican border or followed along with their cameras, including young people armed only with their smart tracking devices. Thanks to this, the mainstream news media, Fake News Mexico-style, could not fully control the narrative and claim the invaders were poor indigenous types who were starving in their violent countries and were only looking for work, with so, so many women and children among them. Mexican news outlets went full into damage control mode, immediately calling Truther reporters zenophobes and racists. News outlets doubled down on their news stories showing young mothers with ill children who would get the best medical treatment in the United States, despite that a good 70 to 80% of the invaders were young males of military age, the same as the Arab and African male invaders in civilized Europe. No matter how neutral independent reporters were on the subject of forced migration, trolls tormented them and got many Youtube channels restricted, demonetized and censored. Free speech was affected soon after, with reporters censored from using words such as barbarians, invaders, hordes and mobs, all of which were accurate and fully applied to the crisis. When invaders into Mexico started coming in from Africa, independent news couldn't even call them 'blacks' anymore, but inter-continentals, in the same way Islamic rapists of Anglo women in Europe could no longer be called African or Middle Eastern men, just plain criminals with no racial distinction.

Before I go on with Obrador, I'd like to point out an odd incident that took place in winter of 2018, to show you how governments really work.

The former president of Mexico, Enrique Peña Nieto, took a $100 million bribe from Joaquín Guzmán Loera, the infamous crime lord known as El Chapo, according to a witness at Mr. Guzman's trial. - New York Times, January 2019

Article link: <https://www.nytimes.com/2019/01/15/nyregion/el-chapo-trial.html>

Article link: <https://www.nytimes.com/2019/01/16/world/americas/el-chapo-bribe-president-mexico.html>

Peña Nieto didn't like that negative exposure very much, so he did something about it. I can't prove this, but I think he made some phone calls to important people, maybe as high as the White House. Remember the above allegations concerning El Chapo's people bribing top Mexican officials. Here's the timeline:

November 2019 - Peña Nieto is still sitting President of Mexico until Dec. 1st

November 5, 2019 - El Chapo's trial begins in Brooklyn, New York, while El Chapo is in jail in Ciudad Juarez, Mexico (United States of America v. Joaquín Guzmán Loera, Wikipedia)

November 20, 2019 - (Judge) Cogan also stated there were numerous other "bribes" and seems to concentrate on one particular bribe he wants off limits as being "potentially inflammatory." (Borderland Beat, November 2018)

Article link: <http://www.borderlandbeat.com/2018/11/el-chapo-trial-judge-limits-cross.html>

So, think of how embarrassing it would be for a sitting president of any country to be accused of receiving a huge bribe from the leader of an infamous drug cartel. That would be pretty bad, right? How do I know Peña Nieto tried to cover this up? Well, look at what happened only 7 days later, 4 days before PN leaves office:

Outgoing Mexican President Enrique Peña Nieto will present Kushner with the Order of the Aztec on Thursday at the Group of 20 summit in Argentina, the Reforma newspaper reported. - New York Post, November 2018

Article link: <https://nypost.com/2018/11/27/jared-kushner-to-be-honored-with-mexicos-order-of-the-aztec/>

Kushner received the "Aztec Eagle" for his work developing the trade deal between the U.S., Mexico and Canada, which was negotiated to replace the North American Free Trade Agreement. - CBS News, November 2018

Article link: <https://www.cbsnews.com/news/jared-kushner-receives-aztec-eagle-award-from-mexican-government/>

The Aztec Eagle is the highest honor a foreigner can receive from Mexico. Did any of you even know that Vice President Kushner was involved in negotiating NAFTA's replacement deal? Is it a coincidence that Pena Nieto gives this man the highest award he possibly can, only 4 days before he leaves office, when he could have given the award at any moment in time earlier?

This is speculation on my part, but I think somebody influenced Judge Cogan to prevent the testimony about Pena Nieto taking a huge bribe becoming known, until after PN was out of office. Note that El Chapo was extradited to Brooklyn on January 19th. The news about the bribe came out on January 15th, only four days prior, despite that the trial had gone on for two and a half months already. This way, Pena Nieto could grab what he could, dump his wife Angelica Rivera and go hide out in Spain where he wasn't in the Mexican public eye anymore. Note that many news sources didn't even have a good reason for why Kushner got that award in the first place, such as the New York Post article I linked above. Many people in Mexican news were equally dumbfounded.

Or maybe there is another reason the testimony was hushed up:

One of the most important cooperating witnesses in the prosecution of Mexican drug kingpin Joaquin “El Chapo” Guzman appeared poised to implicate Mexico’s president-elect in corruption on Tuesday while recounting payoffs to high-level politicians — until he was stopped by the judge...

After an extended back-and-forth about bribes that the witness said he paid Mexico’s former top cop, Genaro Garcia Luna, on behalf of his brother, Sinaloa cartel boss Ismael “El Mayo” Zambada, Purpura asked about a man named Regino, whom Zambada Garcia identified as a deputy to then-Mexico City Mayor Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

“And what if any relationship did Regino have to Lopez Obrador?” Purpura asked, before Judge Brian Cogan sustained an objection from federal prosecutors, preventing him from giving an answer. Instead, the defense lawyer pressed the witness over exactly how much money Regino had received at their meeting in 2005.

"I'm not sure, but it was a few million dollars," Zambada Garcia replied. "It was paid to him because it was said he was going to be the next secretary of security, and if so it would be for our protection." - Los Angeles Times, November 20, 2018

Article link: <https://www.latimes.com/nation/la-na-el-chapo-trial-20181120-story.html>

To recap; the trial starts in early November, Judge Cogan limits witness testimony about bribes on the 20th, Kushner gets the most prestigious award Mexico can offer to him on the 27th, given to him directly by Pena Nieto, and Pena Nieto leaves office four days later. We don't find out about Pena Nieto's notorious bribe until almost two months after that.

Or, in scenario number two, is it possible for AMLO, the Mayor of Mexico City at the time, to not know his future secretary of security is taking bribes from the cartels? Is it a coincidence that Obrador wants to forgive the cartels and legalize all drugs? That's just rumor, but it doesn't matter. There is plenty of other damning evidence about Obrador that we can use to hang him.

Also while he was President-elect, Obrador made another negative ripple when he thought it wise to cancel the massive project for a new international airport on the dry lake bed of Texcoco. This was a $13 billion dollar undertaking. The foundations for the airport were already set. Is Obrador really going to leave the project unfinished? Yes, he is, because according to him the people have voted against it by referendum, and Mexico stands to save $5 billion dollars. Actually, only 1 of every 90 registered voters responded. Good thing Obrador had a back-up plan. His grand scheme was to incorporate a public, commercial airport into the existing military base at Santa Lucia. You'll have military jets coming and going beside big airlines; what could possibly go wrong there? (Wall Street Journal and Associated Press, October 2018)

Even worse, nobody bothered with a feasibility study at the time. Apparently, Obrador's two additional runways for his 'international' airport, are blocked by... Wait for it... A range of mountains. Also, the wind is going in the wrong direction on those two additional proposed runways, preventing smooth take-offs. It took them seven months to figure this out.

The biggest problem is the ring of mountains that surrounds Mexico City, limiting the routes for take-off and landing, and making it a logistical nightmare to operate two separate airports (that's public and military, folks), according to critics.

"Some people say, 'There are other cities with more than one airport.' That's true, but they don't have Mexico City's orography," said Mexican pilot Angel Jimenez, a 58-year-old veteran with 22,000 hours of flying experience.

"We're surrounded by a system of mountains shaped like an inverted horseshoe. The only flight pattern for ascents and descents is via the north. There will be a huge amount of air traffic," he told AFP. - ABS-CBN News, May 2019

Santa Lucía Airport could threaten water supply, study shows - The International Airport that Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador plans to build at the Santa Lucía Air Base in the State of Mexico will require 211,800 cubic feet of water (1.58 million gallons) to operate each day, only to meet the consumption of passengers. - El Universal, May 2019

Judge gives two final injunctions against St. Lucia airport - A federal judge of the State of Mexico granted two definitive suspensions, one that prevents the cancellation of the construction of the new airport in Texcoco and the other against the Federal Revenue Law, particularly for fiscal years 2015 to 2018.

The Eighth District Judge based in the State of Mexico issued the resolutions, the details of the scope can not yet be known because the engroses of their rulings have not been published. What it does make clear is that the suspensions prevent the cancellation of the work in Texcoco and against the application of the mentioned statute.

Some of the injunctions presented, are against the use and increase in the airport use tax because this tax was used to finance Texcoco's project, and now, with the Santa Lucía airport project, they are seeking not to be charged and the resources not to be used for works at Military Air Base number 1, in Santa Lucía, State of Mexico. - The Yucatan Times, June 2019

Article link: <https://www.theyucatanimes.com/2019/06/judge-gives-two-final-injunctions-against-st-lucia-airport/>

To recap this one; the in-construction international airport is a huge deal. Obrador cancels it and suggests adding two runways to an airport at a military base. As it turns out, two more runways can't be built easily because mountains are in the way and there isn't enough water for the expected traffic. A judge rules the Texcoco project can't be canceled, and money raised at Texcoco can't be used for the military base at St. Lucia. That is two huge blunders, illegal immigration and the airport mess that Obrador has caused and he isn't even inaugurated yet. Next debacle, please...

Hurricane Willa made landfall on Mexico's eastern shore on October 24th, 2018. Four states were badly affected: Sinaloa, Nayarit, Durango, and Michoacan. Total amount of damage was estimated at $537 million dollars. People had their homes and vehicles swept away by flooding, ten thousand were left homeless in Nayarit alone, power was gone, food and water ran out. (Hurricane Willa, Wikipedia)

Mexicans looked to their President-elect for assistance. What does Obrador decide, but to invite invaders from Central America into the country and offer them 1 million work permits. Those destitute Mexicans don't need help, not at all, but those Hondurans and Salvadorans sure do! Let's bring them all in!

MEXICO CITY - The next governor, Olga Sánchez Cordero, said that Mexico has the capacity to provide temporary work for up to one million Central American migrants, despite the fact that until now a much smaller amount has entered the country.

By participating in a forum organized by the Business Council of Latin America (CEAL), Sánchez Cordero said that work visas will also be given to "our friends from the Northern Triangle."

"We calculate that Mexico can take care of one million people to work," explained the now senator of Morena. - Reporte Nivel Uno, November 2018

Article link (translated): <https://translate.google.com/translate?sl=auto&tl=en&u=https%3A%2F%2Freporteniveluno.mx%2F2018%2F11%2F01%2Fdarle-trabajo-un-millon-migrantes-sanchez-cordero%2F>

So far, it looks like Mexico elected a new President of Central America, doesn't it? Ever since the beginning, US President Trump was saying that members of the notorious gang MS-13 were infiltrating the caravans, along with verified members of ISIS and other militant terrorist groups, such as people from Cuba. A lot of Deniers protested against this, saying oh, those poor Central Americans, they just want to work and lead productive lives. We need to hug them! This is all bullshit from people who are either pushing the socialist / communist / Zionist agenda, who are too naive to see what's right in front of their eyes, or who are masked radicals that enjoy stirring up anarchy like many in the George Soros-funded Antifa and Black Lives Matter movements.

What is the Truth? Mexican President Obrador, Secretary of Interior Olga Sanchez and Claudia Sheinbaum, Mayor of Mexico City, are all liars and traitors to the nation of Mexico. I'll skip leaving so many links, as it is time consuming and there is a lot of stuff I'm forgetting by taking the time to find sources to back up what I'm writing.

Who is coming across the border? Well, a lot of bad people, most of all. There is video of men wearing white shirts and jeans, with pistols in their waistbands, handing money to invaders getting ready to leave Honduras. There are rumors that Honduras is emptying out their jails, and supplying prisoners and anyone else that will pay with travel visas made with fictitious names. People with criminal backgrounds including murderers, who have been deported from the US, are mixed into the caravans, along with gang members who are distinguished by their tattoos and radical elements, or 'people of interest' as the CIA calls them. Father Solalinde, a big pro-migration guy, hesitates in calling them gang members despite having taken at least two 'bags' of handguns away from them. They were only carrying weapons for their protection, allegedly, despite that the invaders are killing and raping at a tremendous (and unreported) rate all over Mexico. These rats are kidnapping and killing little girls, carrying drugs or weapons as mules for the cartels, and since they are already recognized as criminals, they won't be waiting around to be given any asylum in the US. Plain and simple, they came to cause trouble. How bad is this trouble? These are the sorts of people liberals in the US and Mexico want us to invite into our neighborhoods with welcoming arms:

Texas Medical Professional: Migrants Quarantined with UNKNOWN Disease, 10-Year Old Girl Found With 20 Types of Semen In Her - A medical professional on the border in Texas told Big League Politics that the crisis is reaching fever pitch, with three individuals now quarantined at a privately-owned hospital in El Paso with an unknown disease. The Centers For Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has not even been able to identify the disease the three migrants have, as the military guards the quarantine area.

"There were some Congolese people caught crossing the border, it was suspected they had Ebola. In one facility there are three patients being held because they don't know what they have. The CDC have been here to assess them. They are isolated, they only have certain specialists who can see them,” the medical professional tells Big League Politics...

“There was a female, 10 years old, who was found with 20 different types of semen inside her body. She was dispatched to a family member. The girl who was with her who was supposedly a family member was not really a family member, just someone who bought her from her family in Guatemala. These are real problems that exist here on the border. There are some people who are trying to leave jugs of water out here for them. A lot of these people come to this country needing help,” the professional stated.

Migrants are obtaining “Rent-A-Kids,” and since Border Patrol cannot perform DNA tests to determine if children are related to adults most of the human traffickers get into our country.

“In Juarez, there is a huge influx of Cubans right now. They have taken over the streets and started a prostitution ring among them. The Cubans cannot cross here. If they have Cuban citizenship, they cannot cross here.”

“There are a lot of people who come here from El Salvador, Guatemala who are in acute renal failure, they cannot walk. There are some who have come with cirrhosis of the liver. I’ve seen some patients who are almost at the point of dying with the cirrhosis that they have,” the medical professional stated. “The time and resources it takes up to treat them is massive.”

“There have been some women who have come forward who said they were raped...in the end you have to believe they were because of the damage done to them, either vaginally or anally,” the professional stated. - Big League Politics, June 2019

I hope that part about the 10 year-old girl disgusts you. Women and girls crossing through Mexico to get to the United States plan on getting raped multiple times, so they bring condoms or use contraceptives ahead of time. I saw an estimate recently that up to one-third of all invading families are fictitious. That is, the supposed parents can’t prove the children with them are really theirs. Mexican police officers are being killed and harassed, people were getting carjacked by migrants and their cell phones taken away, and yet Obrador still pulls the ‘Human Rights’ card against any and all critics. Human traffickers are making a killing transporting invaders for up to $9,000 a head. ($14,000 in 2021 along the US / Mexico border.) Kidnappers are also making a ton of money, and they’re killing their victims regardless of whether they get paid or not.

Obrador and Cordero continue to lie that the southern border is secure, and that they want an orderly, supervised entry of immigrants. Meanwhile, I’ve seen three different Youtube content creators walking across the border multiple times without being stopped by any Mexican immigration official, either on the pedestrian bridge or over the River Suchiate that runs below it.

Let’s talk about Claudia Sheinbaum, the ‘Chief’ or Mayor of Mexico City and one of Obrador’s initial appointees. Running Mexico City is like running a small country due to the size and density of population. She’s been a bundle of stupidity ever since the start as well. Mexico in general does stupid shit because of corruption and incompetence, so this sort of incompetence is not really new.

In this case, the government contracted foreign engineers to modernize and construct a new system of water delivery for Mexico City. The engineers laid out their plans and started working. Well, just as with the airport debacle, some genius in Mexico decided, heck, who needs the foreign engineers? We have the plans, we have the pipes, so why don't we put everything together ourselves and save some almighty pesos? Good job they did, so good that right in the middle of the initial caravan invasions, the entire Mexico City ran out of water for a week. To her credit, Sheinbaum brought in water trucks and filled up containers that were set up on street corners. What did the invasion horde do but start washing their clothes with the drinking water and ticking off the locals.

Okay, so maybe we can't blame all of that on Sheinbaum because she was fresh to the job, around early to mid December I think. What we can blame her for is that she took clothing and other seizures from the drug cartels, and instead of selling it like the law says she should, she gave it away to the incoming migrants and not to the poor people in Mexico. (I can't find a link for that at the moment. Maybe I'll look again later.)

Next, this dumb ass was told repeatedly that a lot of women are getting killed and raped throughout Mexico City's subway and public transportation systems. Sheinbaum denied this was happening at first, or maybe she was too busy taking care of foreigners. Finally, when the public outcry got too loud, she said she'd look into it, but good luck getting her to actually do anything about it.

I predicted to my relatives about a week ahead of time that Obrador was going to begin pushing the queer agenda, because I'd seen how the agenda was previously rolled out in Europe to emasculate the Anglo male. Lo and behold, when a week later I saw him holding the queer flag in a morning briefing, I thought, here it comes, trannies and crossdressers coming to Mexico, and I was right. Only a couple of days later, Sheinbaum announces that little boys can't wear shorts to school, but they can wear skirts, and little girls can start wearing pants whenever they want to.

Vaccinations and sex changes without parental consent can't be too far behind.

You can learn quite a few things by watching what goes on internationally, and also here in the US. I saw how Obama-Soetoro did things, how Germany's Merkel, France's Hollande and Canada's Trudeau did things. Lastly, I learned a few things after watching how Maduro was strangling Venezuela. They have an agenda, and they always implement the same steps in the same order.

Mexico's downfall started when socialists began 'updating' the constitution. The nation would no longer be sovereign but willing to work with the United Nations on certain matters, including the ever-useful excuse of Human Rights. These measures are always presented as 'voluntary,' but once they are implemented, watch out. Bending over for the UN means, in a nutshell, that your country is fucked.

Back in 2008, Barack Obama, then a presidential candidate, called for a “civilian national security force.” And he wanted it as big as all of the nation’s military branches. - WND, May 2015

Notice the preceding statement was made in early 2008, before Obama was even elected. The first step the socialists want is to create a private army that answers only to the man in charge. Think of Hitler’s Brown Shirts here. Maduro did it by filtering and arming loyalists into Chavista groups and ‘collectives’ that run neighborhoods. These collectives are roving gangs, including prisoners released in early 2019 when Maduro’s rule started getting challenged by Juan Guaido of the National Assembly. They go out and murder and raise havoc with impunity and Maduro’s unofficial blessing.

Obrador is trying to do the same thing in Mexico with his National Guard. Mexico already has city / municipal police, state police and federal police. What he’s doing at present, as of about four days ago, is dismantling the famed ‘Federales’ and testing them to see if they qualify for his new branch that will answer directly to him, and not to any military brass, unless he potentially gives control over to the United Nations in the name of his holy Human Rights.

Recently, public elections were held in Mexico, where the city of Tijuana and the state of Baja California lost to Obrador’s Morena party. Outgoing Mayor Gallum was the biggest obstacle preventing Obrador from flooding Tijuana with invaders. To celebrate the victory, Obrador transported in a reported 50 buses full of supporters from Mexico City. These ‘supporters’ were as rabid as any Antifa rabble, shouting down and getting aggressive and violent with any critics of Obrador. That’s the kind of strong-armed tactics we will continue to see from this would-be dictator in the Maduro mold.

At this point, Obrador is ignoring the underpaid Mexican teachers, the suffering indigenous people of Chiapas who are being kicked off their lands, probably for the exploitation of minerals, and he’s cut off funding for 300 rural medical clinics in areas that don’t have hospitals. Obrador has also cut funding to send Mexican students abroad so they can compete in math and science fairs against students from other countries.

Here is another underhanded tactic this man is using to procure funding for his holy invaders, regarding daycare centers for poor working mothers. His Morena reps made an announcement all across the country. Go to this meeting place at such and such a time and sign our paperwork stating you are a poor mother who uses the daycare facilities. According to witnesses, the announcement was made on short notice, on a weekday evening. When only a handful of women showed up and signed, Obrador made a public clamor right after saying that all the other women were fictitious and the daycare centers were milking away government funds, so he canceled the entire program.

Is he through lying? No, not yet. He’s saying the economy is improving, but the financial numbers don’t back that up. He claims he listens to the voice of the people, but he tells troublesome reporters and civilians they have wrong information or that his data must be different, or anything at all to avoid giving a direct answer. I've seen him fidget onstage, before he changes the subject to gives long, vague replies before moving on to something else.

"Where one eats, a million eat." - Obrador, June 2019

<https://www.meganoticias.mx/cdmx/noticia/donde-come-uno-come-un-millon-dice-amlo/79602>

That's this scumbag's new tact; using the Bible and its principles of sharing to placate his critics on the migrant crisis. Really, is he that stupid? Where one person eats, one million can eat?

Political socialists, like corporatists and materialists, are never out to help the people. They are always out to stuff their pockets with taxpayer money, and the pockets of their friends and relatives, while throwing peanuts like Obama phones at the useful idiots to keep them voting. Obrador promised to reduce the violence from the drug cartels, but so far his first six months have been the bloodiest on record, thanks to how he gave free reign to some of the worst killers on the planet. He promised to lift Mexico into a world power, and he did have a chance to do it at first, except now he's promised to send huge amounts of Mexican money to Honduras and El Salvador to improve those countries first. He vowed to lower the price of gasoline by upgrading Mexico's refineries and taking control away from foreign interests, and that lasted all of two or three months before the prices went back to their usual levels. His grand plan of a new billion dollar refinery at Dos Bocas is already circling the toilet. To his slight credit, he did increase social security payments to retired people, but that was offset when he gifted foreign invaders with monthly checks in the amount of at least $100 dollars, as far back as November of 2018 when he wasn't even president yet.

You know one thing I thought was odd? Early on, Obrador said he wanted to establish local banks and to make sure everyone had a debit card. Why is that odd? Well, because part of the UN agenda is to create a cashless society, something that is already in progress in India, the UK and the US. You know that Bible verse, right?

And no one could buy or sell anything without that mark, which was either the name of the beast or the number representing his name. - Revelation 13:17

It would be a whole lot easier to turn off a person's money supply if everyone on the planet had debit cards and digital currency, don't you think? Maybe that's why so many governments are hoarding gold and silver, huh?

Here's the thing that might actually save Mexico. Obrador is in a big hurry to get the agenda going, and he's making a lot of mistakes and pissing off a lot of people. In the US and in Europe, when similar events took place, too many people cowered into hiding with the fear of being called racist, Islamophobe or homophobe, or Trump supporter.

Not so with Mexicans. Western / European societies as a whole have been relatively tame within their borders, ever since Greece and Rome. Latinos, on the other hand, from Mexico on down to Brazil, Colombia and Venezuela, are still largely tribal and savage, and this can be evidenced by the distressing murder rates in all of those countries. Many Latinos will not tolerate another tribe coming into their territory and causing trouble. This is why Tijuana citizens rallied against the incoming invaders, and many people don't know this, but a lot of Central Americans are getting killed in Mexican cities bordering the US. (Also, this is why citizens of Tecun Uman along the northern Guatemalan border kicked out drunken, pot-smoking Hondurans who were dirty dancing in their town square all night.)

Mexicans will rise up and start a slaughter of invaders if the right incident provokes them. We do have the rare story of Mexicans in Chiapas lynching or attempting to lynch invaders who have raped mentally handicapped women, young women and little girls. This is why Mexican Fake News is being very careful not to provoke the ire of the common folk. I doubt very much that we will see Sharia patrols in Mexico the way we are seeing them in London and New York, or ten year-old cross-dressing boys using cosmetics like the ones promoted by Fake News here in the States.

What else can we expect from scumbag Obrador? First off, he thinks he's smart by deceiving Trump regarding border and migrations issues, when he's really talking out of both sides of his mouth and trying to gain firm dictatorial control of Mexico. People from rival political parties are uniting against his insanity and deformation of the country. The bad thing about that is they're allowing ultra-corrupt rightists like former Presidents Fox and Calderon to speak for them. I think a lot of Mexicans are ready to fight and die for their nationalism, compared to US nationalism that is lukewarm at best; not even the proud state of Texas puts up a fight against vaccines and illegal surveillance nowadays.

Obrador will keep pushing until the dam breaks, and I have a feeling it will take a lot less than Obama's eight years of socialist failure, because Obrador is pushing too hard, too fast and the people are already starting to push back. Just last week, a teenage girl flipped the President off during a public speech, and civilians are shouting at him when he drives or walks by, calling him a liar like the Presidents that preceded him.

Article link: <https://www.theyucatantimes.com/2019/06/teenager-gives-amlo-the-finger-during-his-visit-to-merida/>

He's already saying the usual socialist line of 'rich people bad, poor people good.' Pretty soon he'll start confiscating bank accounts and large factories from wealthy investors, in the same way Venezuela's Chavez did before Maduro.

You know, AMLO sycophants claim that Obrador can't fix all of Mexico's problems in just six months. The counterclaim from critics is that Obrador is a politician with over forty years of experience, he has been Mayor of troublesome Mexico City before, and he sure can fix the problems of Central America in such a short time!

If you want to know more about Obrador's game plan, check out these two pages. He is a member of the socialist Sao Paulo Forum, and thanks to him, so is all of Mexico.

* One final peeve. I'm using Ecosia search engine, which is based on the left-biased Google garbage but supposedly not tracking me as much. I type in very specific words into the search bar when trying to find specific incidents, but the search engine keeps giving me page after page of sanitized 'official story' results, more so in English than when I search in Spanish. Still, I would have had links to nearly everything I mentioned if the search engine wasn't programmed against me, especially when it comes to exposing the United Nations migrant invasion agenda.

* Today, July 19, Obrador announced he wants free Internet for all of Mexico. We haven't heard that one before, have we, from that one guy, <cough> <cough> Obama-Soetoro <bleah!>. That 'national ID' can't be far behind, so that people will be forced to use it to sign in when going online. I wonder how Obrador plans on paying for free Internet for Mexico?

* On July 26th, Obrador canceled Internet service to most major Mexican universities. Where are Mexico's most intelligent young people to be found? That would be in the universities, right? Better to cut off access to information early, before they wise up to what Obrador is really up to.
